

Is your son or daughter praying about going with One Team International to El Salvador?

That's Great!

We are so excited to partner with you in their life!

We hope this information will help you walk them through the process of God sending them to the nations.

What will my son or daughter experience?

For years, the leaders of One Team International has been training and sending students on mission both global and in inner-cities. As a result, your child will be:

- equipped to effectively carry out this mission endeavor
- encouraged in their relationship with Christ
- challenged to live their whole life for the mission of God and His glory

One Team International will

- provide safety precautions. We take seriously the safety of every one of our team members. Click here to see the specific safety precautions we take for everyone on our team
- provide leaders who are experienced in leading international mission trips
- provide fundraising tips
- provide exhaustive training
- provide all the information requested by parents
